

Hospital and Clinical Waste Reduction and Management Conference

Do you care about patient and employee health? Are you spending too much money on waste management? Are you concerned about employee exposures to toxic chemicals? Do you wonder if you are in compliance with all hazardous waste regulations?

If so, you should attend one of the Hospital and Clinical Waste Reduction and Management Conferences taking place this fall. This conference will include presentations by medical and regulatory communities on:

- Hazardous waste management requirements
- Waste and toxic chemical reduction case studies
- Special issues for small hospitals
- Environmentally preferable purchasing
- Toxic substances: mercury, sterilants, pharmaceuticals, cleaners and other PBTs
- Solid waste reduction
- Green building
- Water and energy conservation
- Healthy, sustainable food

Who Should Attend?

- Safety & environmental staff
- Facility maintenance staff
- Administrative staff
- Purchasing staff
- Patient care staff
- Students
